Clothing Disappeared.

Galveston, Texas, November 4.—A peculiar phase of human nature has been exhibited here recently. Among the clothing sent here for the relief of the destitute was a great deal that was in such had condition that the applicants for all would not accept it. This was placed in barrels every evening and left outside of the distributing depots as though by mistake. The following morning all the clothing had been taken. This was tried all over the city and in every case the clothing disappeared.
